

So Much Further To Go

Hot Chip

There's so much further
To go and my mind was
Fixed on running everything
Too close to decipher
A voice so I ask her
What would you have me say?
The silence and answer
I hope not to hear her
Open my mouth for love is thin

Like a miracle
A miracle that's hard to bear
Like a miracle
Whose song once filled the air

Without much further
To go my time was
Ripped from my body unwarned
And the opening started
And that's when my heart just
Lifted this thing unborn
Restless and weary
But seeing so clearly
I wondered, oftly wore

Like a miracle
A miracle that's hard to bear
Like a miracle
The silence just fills the air
