

What Love Looks Like

Mirel Wagner

Through thick and thin that's what they say

Forgive and forget

Well it's me that has to change

Is this what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?

You're endless needs

My braking greave

You look this way but you don't see

Is this what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?

My body is frane, my soul is staned

All things good will be washed away

Is this what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?

This pain I breath, has poisend me

Dream to dream now I'm spreading better

Through thick and thin that's what they say

Forgive and forget

Well it's me that has to change

Is this what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?

This is what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?

This is what love looks like?

Is this what love looks like?
