Heroine

Raye Zaragoza

I never knew I loved you until I saw you cry
Your head leaned back on the sofa that night
So ashamed of what you had to share
My lips on your shoulder, and my hands in your hair

Oh, don't cry your self to sleep
I would die here and spend every night in between
So when the world don't love you baby
Love me x2

Never knew I was addicted to you
Made me say "please
That rush through my spine
Boy, it terrified me

Open doors and clothes on the floor
Were like heroine to me
Little things kept me going
But you made me believe

So don't cry your self to sleep
I would die here and spend every night in between
So when the world don't love you baby
Love me x4

Oh, men will come and they will go
Why do i keep screaming
Love me x4
