Lessons

Stylus

I'll tell you what I do inside of my bedroom
I wrap my arms around myself
As I'm feeling these pains
Void from healing
I only wish I could hold back this aggression
Please hear my confession
I try to keep myself from thinking about you
I can't live without you
You turned away from me
All of the lessons that I had to learn
And all of the respect that I had to earn
And you're the one that makes me understand life

I'll tell you what I do inside of my bedroom
I wrap my arms around myself
As I'm feeling these pains
Void from healing
I only wish I could hold back this aggression
Please hear my confession
I try to keep myself from thinking about you
I can't live without you
You turned away from me
All of the lessons that I had to learn
And all of the respect that I had to earn
And you're the one that makes me understand life

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/