Hard Light

Andrew London

They say love is blind,
humorous sometimes,
a backwards movie playing in my mind

A hundred rainy days,
An old nostalgic haze,
A hillside and a fire all ablazeÂ

Guess you're the one I can recall
Of seldom few that knew me at all
Every regret that I think of
Under the hard light of love.

They say it's too late
But I'm still on my way
Everyone's got something else to say
But thinking's just a waste
I can read it on your face
I'm still blind, but set it all ablaze

Guess you're the one I can recall
Of seldom few that knew me at all
Every regret that I think of
Under the hard light of love.

Do you feel like we're surrounded?
I do, I do my love.
And all the pain you carry washes over you?
Well, me tooâ€¦

Guess you're the one I can recall
of seldom few that knew me at all
And every regret I see, still chasing me
Into hard light, hard lightâ€¦.

Guess you're the one I can recall
of seldom few that knew me at all
And every regret that I think of
Under the hard light,
Hard light of love.
