Only Hurts Awhile

Injected

Too much left to say, you never wanted it that way
Now you wake up wondering why your life is tumbling
Into nothing left to say, you always knew it'd be that way
And now you poison your dreams with a feeling that seemsTo leave you all alone
Ditch you halfway home
You pick yourself up off the ground
And find out what it's all aboutIt only hurts awhile and then it's gone again
No need to ask just where or when you'll find yourself again
'Cause you're only here awhile and then you're gone again
No need to ask just where or whenOnce upon a time I'd take a drink and I'd feel fine
Now it hurts me everywhere, sick secrets I can't share
Nothing left to say, I always knew it'd be that way
And now I've poisoned my dreams with a feeling that seemsTo leave me all alone
Ditch me halfway home
I'll pick myself up off the ground
And find out what it's all aboutIt only hurts awhile and then it's gone again
No need to ask just where or when you'll find yourself again
'Cause you're only here awhile and then you're gone again
No need to ask just where or whenFalling faster towards the ground
You are falling faster down and down, yeahTo leave me all alone
Ditch me halfway home
I'll pick myself up off the ground
And find out what it's all aboutIt only hurts awhile and then it's gone again
No need to ask just where or when you'll find yourself again
'Cause you're only here awhile and then you're gone again
No need to ask just where or whenFalling faster towards the ground
You are falling faster down and down, yeah
Falling faster towards the ground
You are falling faster down and down, yeah
