

I Saw Your Light

Lee Ann Womack

I was a long lost soul, I was a burnt out case
I felt my heart grow old, I wore a stranger's face
I built a wall so high, I built a gulf so wide
I saw my life go by, on the other side I wasn't lookin' for a miracle
Just hopin' for relief
But you gave me somethin'
Somethin' to believe I saw your light
And I was changed, I was changed
I saw your light
And nothing is the same, no no no
Maybe all of us are weak
Maybe love is fast asleep
In the middle of an endless night
But I saw your light I've come a long, long way, I walked a crooked road
And there was hell to pay, and there were miles to go
I thought I'd lost my nerve, I thought I'd lost my spark
Life had thrown a curve and I was in the dark I wasn't lookin' for a miracle
Just hopin' for relief
But you gave me somethin'
Somethin' to believe I saw your light
And I was changed, I was changed
I saw your light
And nothing is the same, no no no
Maybe all of us are weak
Maybe love is fast asleep
In the middle of an endless night
But I saw your light I was a long lost soul, I was a burnt out case
I felt my heart grow old, I wore a stranger's face
I built a wall so high, I built a gulf so wide
I saw my life go by on the other side I've come a long, long way, I walked a crooked road
And there was hell to pay, and there were miles to go
I thought I'd lost my nerve, I thought I'd lost my spark
Life had thrown a curve and I was in the dark I saw your light
And I saw your light
I saw it, I saw it
I saw your light
And I saw your light
I saw it, I saw it
I saw your light

And I saw your light
I saw it, I saw it
I saw your light
And I saw your light
I saw it, I saw it
