

The Instinct

Mark McGuire

That moment something's wrong
That moment i feel
Instead of wasting time
I'd like to rewind
Some go away before you're gone
And there's no way that it's suppose to happen
In between the instinct
After sundown after sundown
There's no mistake
wait for my return and decide my fate
I'll be without you only for a while That's all i can take
that's all
No more distractions
No more excuse
It's just you and me now
It's just you only you
There's no mistake
Wait for my return and decide my fate
I'll be without you only for awhile
That's all i can take
That's all
All in between the instinct to be
It's only you
