

Living for Today (feat. Cory Plaugh)

Driven Astray

It's not enough to say I will
A voice my confidence but still
I'm at the bottom of this hill
(Wouldn't leave it all behind)
Wish I could leave this shit behind
Because I'm falling out of line

Your wasting all my time
(Your always wasting my time/ I pushed down the voice Inside my head)

I never know if I don't try
Can't let this moment pass me by
Now's my chance to take control

I am the only one that is standing in my way
It's time I start living for today

No one can save me from myself
Can't put the blame on someone else
I create my own Hell

(You wouldn't leave it all behind)
It's time to let it all behind
Because I'm falling out of line
And I wasted all my time!

(What are you waiting for?)
I pushed down the voice inside my head

I never know unless I try
Can't let this moment pass me by
Now's the chance to take control

I am the only one that's standing in my way
It's time I start living for today

I won't give up
It's time to get up now

Time is slipping
I won't give in now

It's time to get up
I won't give up now

I never know unless I try
I can't let this moment pass me by
Now's my chance to take control

I am the only one that's standing in my way
It's time I start living for today (2x)
