

Head Trap

Samiam

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Have you ever tried to get away?
When every move you make is restrained
Trying to balance what you want
With what's expected of you My thoughts are mine to a point
Feel inclined to be you
My thoughts are mine to a point
Feel inclined to be you Can't overlook the consequences
Due to your new circumstances
Don't you just like to be alone?
Wouldn't you rather stay at home? Wouldn't it be nice to wake up free
Without any sense of responsibility?
Wouldn't it be nice to wake up free
Without any sense of responsibility? Have you ever tried to get away?
Have you ever tried to get away? Do you ever get tired of the same old place
And seeing that same old face?
You need to find some where to go
Leave your whereabouts unknown Have you ever tried to get away?
Do you ever get tired of the same old place?
When every move you make is restrained
