

I Write B Movies

June

And it's about the story that never ends
But this pen won't run out
And the pages always end on the floor You like to keep me awake
Is there something that you wanted?
Well, don't apologize, just hold your breath
Try not to freeze before the morning 'Cause I am the winter
This sickness will break out
'Cause I am contagious
This illness is what you want I'll stand by your door, lay in your bed now
This is your grave now
Burn all your clothes and I can tell that your fever is rising You like to keep me awake
Is there something that you wanted?
Well don't apologize, just hold your breath
Try not to freeze before the morning 'Cause I am the winter
This sickness will break out
'Cause I am contagious
This illness is what you want Why is it so much colder on your side of town?
Would it make things any easier
If something comes up and I'm not around? You can say this is all my fault
At the time when you're pointing your finger
Would it make things any easier
When something comes up and I'm not around? You like to keep me awake
Is there something that you wanted?
Well, don't apologize, just hold your breath
Try not to freeze before the morning And I am the winter
This sickness will break out
'Cause I am contagious
This illness is what you want And I am the winter
This sickness will break out
'Cause I am contagious
This illness is what you want
