

Bodyguard

The Romantic Era

Glass breaks, she called me stoned,
And I won't leave until you're lost
My bones ache, my breathing slows
And I won't leave until you
Lock, lock, lock me up inside, your head
Protect you from the thief in the night, til the end
I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from the night
Yea, I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from what isn't wright
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything you do
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything
And you thought, I'd find you cold
But, you were wrong I was not sold
I'm breaking down every door you put up
I'll change your life, I'll make sure you
Lock, lock, lock me up inside, your head
Protect you from the thief in the night, til the end
I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from the night
Yea, I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from what isn't wright
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything you do
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything
Lock, lock, lock me up inside, your head
Protect you from the thief in the night, til the end
I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from the night
Yea, I'll be your bodyguard,
Protect you from what isn't wright
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything you do
Change, change rooms,
I'll change everything
So paint another picture of us, this time use color
So paint another picture of us, this time use color
So paint another picture of us, this time use color
So paint another picture of us, this time use color
