

Away From Me

Puddle Of Mudd

Yeah

Lies

Look at me now just sitting here by myself

And I think you found someone else

Now I'm gonna have to find a way to put the bottle down
And why can't you see that I'm drowning in a pool of misery

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always afraid that you're lost in somebody

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always afraid that you're lost

So here I am, I don't wanna be by myself

And I think you're fucking someone else

Now I'm gonna have to find a way to take the knife out of my back
And how could you leave me stranded in a closet full of bones

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always afraid that you're lost in somebody

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always afraid that you're lost

Maybe you could let me stay

Maybe just for one more day

You could help me stay the same

Maybe things won't ever change

Maybe we could taste the rain

You could all push me out the way

Now I sit here by myself

Think about somebody else

How could you let them take you away from me

There's somebody else, there's somebody else

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always afraid that you're lost in somebody

I'm always afraid

That you're gone away from me

I'm always that you're fucking

I'm always afraid

I'm always afraid
I'm always afraid
I'm always afraid
I'm always afraid
I'm always afraid
I'm always afraid
Away from me
