Elephant Girl

Squeeze

She's interested in me
I'm interested in her
But there's a distance
Each morning as she walksOur eyes exchange a thought
Our hearts, an interest
I've seen her at the club
Expanding with the funkShe looks so brilliant
She sticks close to her friends
And when the music ends
She is the IndianI'd like to meet the elephant girl
I feel we know each other so well
From eyes that meet the love they seek
Interested to get close to you
Interested to get close to youI'm interested to meet
The girl that looks at me
I will be trying
Her color unlike mine
Her hair the plaited vine
I will be climbingMy leg is always pulled
By friends who really would
But say they wouldn't
The joke's against my heart
Immediately she's barred
Their hearts are woodenI'd like to meet the elephant girl
I feel we know each other so well
From eyes that meet the love they seek
Interested to get close to you
Interested to get close to youI'm interested in her
She's interested in me
Her distance shortens
She walks towards the light
I walk towards the lines
That seem importantI'm counting up to ten
By five she's gone again
Into the distance
I'll try again to nudge my Courage for the love look
Without resistanceI'd like to meet the elephant girl
I feel we know each other so well

From eyes that meet the love they seek
Interested to get close to you
Interested to get close to you

Songwriters
Tilbrook, Glenn Martin / Difford, Christopher HenryPublished by Lyrics Â© Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/