Yesterday

Ace Troubleshooter

I remember a different time, I remember a different me
When there was springtime in my heart
But it's winter and I'm shivering with cynicism now
And I long for yesterdayYesterday, a day of joy, a day of limitless possibilities
I remember a different boy with love surrounding Joy abounding, peace resounding
Where, oh where did that boy go?What's wrong with me now, God
My world is gray
So please help me out, I pray
'Cuz I want to live in yesterdayTake me back to a time of naivety
Never ending days and no need to question things
'Cuz I'm tired of staring out my window, wishing I were Someone I should be, I guess I remember a different me
