

Bitter Is Better

Kim Wilde

Written by m. tsuchiya & b. crunchfield You lay me down in satin sheets softly

You're movin' slow

It's gonna be everything just for me

I know how you want to love me Your love is sweet, I'm going down easy

But I don't know

What I'm doing here anyway, it's not me

I don't like what I feel

It's so oh woh unreal

You better leave You go I call the stranger in black

But can't you see you're on the wrong track

Tonight I face the danger of love that knows no promises

Alive I know I'm not coming back Bitter is better

I gotta stop and walk away

Bitter is better

Your kind of love is not for me

Bitter is better

Locked away in your lovin' sweetness

Lost the key and I just don't need this I'm not the woman you were looking for anyway

High on a pedestal, lillywhite

Givin' me diamond rings

You're just too much for me

I'll lose my sanity

You better leave
