Believe

Ronan Keating

You said, you could see no end
Her world and himself were all on your back
I vowed to take your hand
And show you the world in a different lightAll that you've done
You've got to believe
In all of your dreamsNo matter what the world can throw at you
You know, you can believe
Believe in me and after all
I'll still believe in youAnd even if you cannot see
The brighter light ahead I'll be
You must believe, believe in me
And after all I'll still believe in youI'll pull away the clouds
That cover you up and leave you down
I won't leave you all alone
I'll be there for you in your darkest hourAll that you've done
You've got to believe
In all of your dreams
All of your dreams, yeahNo matter what the world can throw at you
You know, you can believe
Believe in me and after all
I'll still believe in youAnd even if you cannot see
The brighter light ahead I'll be
You must believe, believe in me
And after all I'll still believe in youAnd when it's dark outside
I'll protect you from the night
My shoulder you can rely
I won't do you wrongAll that you've done
You've got to believe
In all of your dreams
All of your dreams, yeahNo matter what the world can throw at you
You know, you can believe
Believe in me and after all
I'll still believe in youAnd even if you cannot see
The brighter light ahead I'll be
You must believe, believe in me
And after all I'll still believe in you
