Broken

Katy Perry

I wear the red shoes with the holes
And to remind me what we went through
Sit down here, kick 'em off, enough
I've not had enough of you, I tell you
You know the car you drive
Keeps breaking down and never starts
Next thing, I'm pulling up to you
We're in the backseat, driving it home
No one wants to be alone
What do you do? What do you do
When everything is broken?
What do you say? What do you say
When no words fit the moment?
'Cause you're not here
And even if you were, all I could say is
What do I do? What do I do?
We're broken but I can't throw us away
The video of our vacation's
Chewed up in the drawer beside me
She thinks I never got to watch it
I'm so glad I made a copy
The sky got bitter twisted
Just like you and me, I miss it
You snap it, bend it, burn it
Then you find that you can't fix it
Fall back on whatever still remains
What do you do? What do you do
When everything is broken?
What do you say? What do you say
When no words fit the moment?
'Cause you're not here
And even if you were, all I could say is
What do I do? What do I do?
We're broken but I can't throw us away
Breaking you in, breaking your heart
I was taking it all and I tore you apart
Breaking me in, breaking my heart
And the damage was done but I took what you got
We were breakin' it, smashin' it

Takin' it, lovin' it, hatin' it, drivin' it home
And now I'm all and now I'm all alone
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, ohh
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Ohh what do you do? Ohh, what do you do?
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
What do you do? What do you do
When everything is broken?
What do you say? What do you say
When no words fit the moment?
'Cause you're not here
And even if you were, all I could say is
What do I do? What do I do?
We're broken but I can't throw us away
