Begin Again

Ignite

This is your chance to begin again
A brand new start to a different end
This is your life to look forward to
And now it's all on youWhen you're giving up on everything
And they're pushing you around with no chance to begin
All you want to do is feel the same as everybody else
But you feel like a wasteI've been there, all down in pain
But gave it all, gave it all
I stood up eye to eye
Lit the flame
Give it all, give it all now
This is your life and it's what you make
Give it some time everything will change
And all these fears will not come true
And now it's all on you
When you're giving up on everything
A willing victim, victim in pain
This is your time to start anew
And now it's all on youWhat you're given you don't have to take
When they're tearing you apart you don't need to be afraid
It seems like things will never change
Remember that these days formed the one you becameI've been there, all down in pain
But gave it all, gave it all
I stood up eye to eye
Lit the flame
Give it all, give it all now
This is your chance to begin again
A brand new start to a different end
This is your life to look forward to
And now it's all on youDon't be giving up on anything
Don't be a victim, victim in pain
This is your life to look forward to
And now it's all on youI want to see you tomorrow
Don't get content with the sorrow
You can save yourself the scars to mend
Always count on me again
You can always count on me again
I want to see you tomorrowThis is your chance to begin again
A brand new start to a different end

This is your life to look forward to
And now it's all on youDon't be giving up on anything
Don't be a victim, victim in pain
This is your life to look forward to
And now it's all on youI've been there, all down in pain
But gave it all, gave it all
I stood up eye to eye
Lit the flame
Give it all, give it all now
