No Idea

All Time Low

I was dreamin' we were running from a city burning down, down, down.

Made a break, a new escape, and let the world crash, down, down, down. Now there's a piece of me,

Tells me I shouldn't leave,

Everytime I see your face.

Because every time you come around

Love, you take my breath awayLove you take my breath away. And I just wanna breathe until I take you in.

I never want you to leave until I take you in.

But the truth is She has no idea (no idea),

That I'm even here (that I'm even here).

She has no idea (no idea),

That I'm even here (that I'm even here). Get a grip, slip and trip over clumsy, careless words, words, words.

Paper-thin fingerprints on a softly spoken verse, verse, verse. Now there's so much of me,

Tellin' me not to leave,

Everytime I see your face

Because every time you come around

How do you take my breath away? And I just wanna breathe until I take you in.

I never want you to leave until I take you in.

But the truth is She has no idea (no idea),

That I'm even here (that I'm even here).

She has no idea (no idea),

That I'm even here (that I'm even here). She's so close when I'm so far away,

when I'm so far away,

Let me dream, let me stay.

She's so close when I'm so far away,

when I'm so far away,

I can sleep, I can dream, I can't change(She has no idea)

That I'm so far away

(She has no idea)

Now I'm so far awayShe has no idea (no idea)

That I'm even here (that I'm even here)

She has no idea (no idea)

That I'm even here

That I'm even here. She has no idea (no idea)

That I'm even here (that I'm even here).

She has no idea (no idea)

That I'm even here (that I'm even here). She has no idea, idea, idea

She has no idea, idea, idea

She has no idea, idea, idea

(That I'm even here) She has no idea.
