

Tongue-Tied

Mia Doi Todd

Looking for a window into your soul
If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?I drag me up the drainpipe
 Leap for the fire ladder
 Seventeen stories
 And Im still climbing higherLooking for a window into your soul
 If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?I went to Samys Camera
 To buy binoculars
 Took home a tall telescope
 Ten thousand times powerLooking for a window into your soul
 If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?I set up on a rooftop
 Just across the way
 In the summer, sweat poured
 In the winter, it was rainLooking for a window into your soul.
If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?Looking for a window into your heart
 If and when I find it, will the insides be dark?
 Looking for a window into your mind
 If and when I find it, will we both be tongue-tied?
