If I could be any where
And feel at home and be without anyone
Without feeling alone
And do anything knowing it's all right
I'll keep you in mind I don't wanna spend my time looking ahead or back
It keeps me busy just wondering where the hell I'm at Don't want to talk 'cause I don't want to argue
Just confuse me anyway You know I'm sorry for not being understanding
And saying the fucked up things I say
But I've been holding back the motion in my mind for so long
Can't always tell when something has gone wrong If things get simple now, I'd probably lose my mind
If things get simple now, I'd probably lose my mind
But I'll keep you in mind
I'll keep you in mind Little girl, you're so afraid
No matter what I say, you don't believe me
Little girl, you're so afraid
No matter what I say, you don't believe me Little girl, little girl
Don't believe me
Don't believe me
Don't believe me
Don't believe me
