

Never Be the Same

Eric Michels

She takes another morning drive
She wonders if she's right this time
She dreams about a life in other scenes
She says it when I'm not around
She drinks herself all over town
And finds a way to live in misery
And it's all I need to save myself and leave
Tell her I'm okay
She knows everything, everything I'll say
Tell her it's a shame
'Cause I believe, my love, you'll never be the same
She lays awake, alone at night
She can't forget with all her might
She left a love that only you could see
Now she's sorry, desperate, feeling blue
She dreams about a life with you
The other side ain't always what it seems
And it's all I need to save myself and leave
Tell her I'm okay
She knows everything, everything I'll say
And tell her it's a shame
'Cause I believe, my love, you'll never be the same
Never be the same
Tell her I'm okay
But she knows everything, everything I'll say
And tell her it's a shame
'Cause I believe, my love, you'll never be the same
Tell her I'm okay
She knows everything, everything I'll say
Tell her it's a shame
'Cause I believe, my love, you'll never be the same

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>