

Friends With Death

Zavod

I said I would love her 'til all the roses withered away
But I forgot to put the fake rose in the bouquet
(I'm so sorry) Now we're friends, now we're friends with death
I proposed, I proposed and she said yes I knew in my heart that it was her and me
She was my biggest mistake until the day she found out that none of the roses were fake Now we're friends, now we're friends with death
I proposed, I proposed and she said yes
