

An Exception To The Rule

Dwight Yoakam

Soft clouds all drift away
Bright sunshine never stays
Warm afternoons turn rainy
Dark and cruel
A candle's glowing light will die
The purest voices often lie
And with love I've found
That all the same is true
Even though I should know better
I guess we could maybe try
There is the risk
Of looking like a fool
But I've got a lucky feeling
Just a hunch, don't ask me why
You might be an exception
To the rule
Sweet dreams can't be recalled
High hopes collapse and fall
As the sky keeps turning
Sadder shades of blue
The strongest promise, finally breaks
And only leads to bigger aches
Are lessons that I learned
At sorrow's school
Even though I should know better
I guess we could maybe try
There is the risk
Of looking like a fool
But I've got a lucky feeling
Just a hunch, don't ask me why
You might be an exception
To the rule
Even though I should know better
I guess we could maybe try
There is the risk
Of looking like a fool
But I've got a lucky feeling
Just a hunch, don't ask me why
You might be an exception
To the rule
Soft clouds all drift away
And bright sunshine never stays
But you might be an exception
To the rule
