

Black Cat Blues

John Lee Hooker

I had a dream last night
God knows a black cat had crossed my trail
I had a dream last night
God knows a black cat had crossed my trail You know I don't want you to Sweep me with no broom
'Cause I'm afraid I might go to jail When my right-hand itch
People, you know I'm gettin' money for sure
You know when my right-hand itch
People, I'm gettin' money for sure You know when my Left eye get to jumpin'
Somebody's just got to go I went home last night
I lay down 'cross my bed
I woke up this mornin', God knows
Broken, hungry too; I said, oh Lord, this black cat have crossed my dream
You know, sometime I wonder, B.G
What in the world's gonna happen to me Well, I went down to the cemetery
Got down on my bended knees
I asked the good Lord above
To take this spell off of me and I said, "Whoa" You know a black cat have crossed my dream
You know, I begin to wonder, B.G
What in the world is gonna happen to me?
