So You're Afraid

Mark Tremonti

When the light is finally gone
Here the blind can truly see
Oh, the tide has finally turned
Now, the walls they fall on me
Now they fall on meSo you're afraid, said it's a long way down
With everything said, you were hurting
But you're much better now
Now all the time's spentOh, the moment's come and gone
Left with what you've come to be
But now your hope is all but lost
The years they've all been such a waste
It's all been such a wasteSo you're afraid, said it's a long way down
With everything said, you were hurting
But you're much better now
Now all the time's spentSo you're afraid, said it's a long way down
With everything said, you were hurting
But you're much better nowSo you're afraid, said how it's all erased
With everything fading
I know that there's a much better way
