What a Heart Is Beating For

Chris Rice

Leave it alone, don't analyze
'Cause love can be your lullaby
But love can be your hurricane too
And love can take your breath away
But love can leave you lonely and blue
Oh, what's a heart to do?
Oh, what's a heart to do?Why be afraid, no reason to hide
Take the chance, put it all on the line
Draw in a deep breath and throw open the door
'Cause that's what a heart is beating for
Yeah, that's what a heart is beating for
Beating for, beating forBrace yourselves, take a good look around
We've all been thinking upside-down
That love's about what life can bring our way
Oh, but love isn't love unless someone pays
And so with love, the only way to gain
Is give it all away? Is give it all away?Why be afraid, no reason to hide
Take the chance, put it all on the line
Draw in a deep breath and throw open the door
'Cause that's what a heart is beating for
Yeah, that's what a heart is beating for
Beating for, beating for
