Telepath

Leo Sayer

I'm leaving the smog below me now I'm leaving my troubles on the ground I'm watching those smoke stacks just blaze away The sky will be blue never greyThe future is filled with wasted time I can't see the road I'm going blind I'm laughing on all of my future plans Shining like gold in my handIsn't it funny how you reach me You know exactly what I'm thinking You're always helping me from sinking It's your wayHello, this is London calling Is my flight due Hello, is there someway I can reach youIsn't it funny when you call me You call me up while I'm sleeping You're always helping me from sinking It's your wayNow this is the end of all my dreams The drumming has stopped behind my ears There's no looking back 'cos I'm too far away Shaking like mad in the dazeThen out of the night you join me here The people around me, they disappear And I hear your voice and you speak to my eyes And everything comes aliveIsn't it funny how you read me

And I hear your voice and you speak to my eyes

And everything comes aliveIsn't it funny how you read me

You know exactly what I'm thinking

You're always helping me from sinking

It's your own way, it's your way, it's your wayHello, this is London calling
Is my flight due

Hello, is there someway
I can reach youOh, I said hello, hello, this is London calling
Is my flight due

Is there someway, maybe
I can reach youIsn't it funny how you reach me
You call me up when I am sleeping
You're always helping me from sinking
It's your way, it's your way
It's your way, it's your way
