Unaware

My Favorite Highway

Light breaks through a crack in the shades
Starting off another day, it all feels the same
She takes in the morning air
A faint smile while she does her hair, she's unaware
And she remarks, but she never complains
Her big dreams that are never in vain, never change
And I picture her in her car
Singing along to her favorite rock star, shes a star
Don't let it pull you down
Don't let it burn you out
You're so much stronger than you know
Down here time moves so slow
Life could pass you by and you wouldn't know, who wouldn't know
Things change, but they rarely do
You count the days as they barely move, do what you have to
If you feel the sudden urge to escape
A fast car and your favorite mix tape, run away
If you feel that youre needing to cry
Run to these arms they wont ask you why, wipe your eyes
Don't let it pull you down
Don't let it burn you out
You're so much stronger than you know
Don't let it pull you down
Don't let it burn you out
You're so much stronger than you know
So please dont go away
Stay youll stay with me
So please dont go away
Say youll stay with me
Don't let it pull you down
Don't let it burn you out
You're so much stronger than you know
Don't let it pull you down
Don't let it burn you out
You're so much stronger than you know
