Grey

Ani DiFranco

The sky is grey The sand is grey And the ocean is greyAnd I feel right at home In this stunning monochrome Alone in my wayI smoke and I drink And every time I blink I have a tiny dreamBut as bad as I am I'm proud of the fact That I'm worse than I seemWhat kind of paradise Am I looking for? I've got everything I wantAnd still I want more Maybe some tiny shiny key Will wash up on the shoreYou walk through my walls Like a ghost on TV You penetrate meAnd my little pink heart Is on its little brown raft Floating out to seaAnd what can I say But I'm wired this way And you're wired to meAnd what can I do But wallow in you UnintentionallyWhat kind of paradise Am I looking for? I've got everything I wantAnd still I want more Maybe some tiny shiny key Will wash up on the shoreRegretfully I guess I've only got three Simple things to sayWhy me? Why this now? Why this way? With overtones ringing And undertows Pulling awayUnder a sky that is grey On sand that is grey By an ocean that's greyWhat kind of paradise Am I looking for? I've got everything I wantAnd still I want more Maybe some tiny shiny key

Will wash up on the shore
