What We Will Never Know

Innerpartysystem

stare into the sun, to see the face for once, all the weakness shows too tired to lift the arms, that hold onto the stars, that watch me as i sleep

i wanna believe in someone, i wanna believe in something i wanna believe that i can love again
i wanna believe in someone. i wanna believe in something
i wanna believe that i can love again

the fire came and went, took everything away the bruises never heal i try to take a breathe, to say what wasn't said but there is nothing left of me, there is nothing left

i wanna believe that i can love again
i wanna believe in someone, i wanna believe in something
i wanna believe that i can love again
i wanna believe in someone, i wanna believe in something
i wanna believe that i can love again
i wanna believe in someone, i wanna believe in something
i wanna believe that i can love again

one day, you will, you will love again one day, you will, but i can't love again

look out to the earth, to find out where you went
