

From The Wreckage Build a Home

The Wind and the Wave

We were racing down a road littered with crosses Right down to Jalama beach and even though we missed the sunset

We jumped over barbed wire and cacti
Just to fall into the sea, skinny dipping' youngin's, you and I
We're built to last
We're built to last

Oh, We're built to last
We're built to last
Well now it's clear you're the wind and I'm the wave
Oh together we can brave all the things we never knew

So I'm making room on a boat I built for one
We can sail into the sun, till our skin's as tough as diamonds
We're built to last
We're built to last

Oh, We're built to last
We're built to last
Oh We're built to last
We're built to last
If our ship does sink we will follow it like stones

From the wreckage build a home
From the wreckage build a home
We're built to last
We're built to last

Oh, We're built to last
We're built to last
Oh We're built to last
We're built to last
