

That's Why God Made The Moon

Brian Haner

Heaven knew that we'd be standing here tonight
It was custom made for the two of us
Feels like I'm seein' you for the first time in my life
Watching you reflect the glow from up above
God made the moon especially for eyes like yours
And nights like these
The kind that just go on and on
Won't stop till the break of dawn
Slow kisses and fast beating hearts
Finding my way through the dark
To the only one I tell my secrets to
That's why God made the moon
I believe that you can fly on satin wings
When there's no one there but you
And when I touch your face, I hear angels sing
I felt that and so much more, when I said I do
God made the moon especially for eyes like yours
And nights like these
The kind that just go on and on
Won't stop till the break of dawn
Slow kisses and fast beating hearts
Finding my way through the dark
To the only one I tell my secrets to
That's why God made the moon
Ooh, what gives me the right
To be with you
Standing here,
Hand in hand,
In such a perfect life
God made the moon especially for eyes like yours
And nights like these
The kind that just go on and on
Won't stop till the break of dawn
Slow kisses and fast beating hearts
Finding my way through the dark
To the only one I tell my secrets to
That's why God made the moon
That's why God made the moon
