They Were One

Living Sacrifice

At first site dreams fulfilled
You were love and love was the answer
A covenant bound by words
A covenant bound by bloodYour plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your tongue is the spear
Your plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your secret is no moreA door was opened
The other was unshut
My heart withering every secret
I have looked into the room, I have seen JudasA serpent's day and they feasted
Your dream was eaten
Your heart has become a grave for robbers
Love turned to hate, justified by fateYour plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your tongue is the spear
Your plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your secret is no moreA serpent's day and they feasted
Your dream was eaten
I looked in the room, she was gone
The world has changed, my heart has remainedA serpent's day and they feasted
Your dream was eaten
Your heart has become a grave for robbers
Love turned to hate, justified by fateYour plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your tongue is the spear
Your plague has ruined me, made a mockery
Your secret is no more
