

All Today

Elvis Perkins

Oh to be somewhere
Or somebody else
Oh to have someone
All to myselfSay that you love me
Say good lines
Say that the love you have
Won't ever dieIn my head I hear a telephone
With the roundest ring
To the tune of a future
Where no God on high singsFrom no wet hall of heaven
No great echoing song
Just the steam off a dream where
Absolutely nothing goes onBut me out of my mind
Feed my body to the crowd
I already feel pointless
The size and the shape of a cloudAll today, all at once
Everything changed, under the sun
Oh I was totally surprised, mentally preparing for years
When it flashed before my eyes, oh it was more than I could fear
My world far behind me, oh what a ringing of the ears...Oh to be somewhere
Or somebody else
Oh to have someone
All to myselfSay that you love me say no more lies
Say that the love you have won't ever die{All today
All at once}

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>