Kick In the Head

Loudon Wainwright III

Well I hear that she told you she'd been shacking up with your best friend
And the kick in the head is she said that she wants to again
Well they was kissin and huggin and doin it right in your bed
Oh this happened to you another foot has the shoe now insteadAnd it's love and it's war and they say it's all fair
But what's weird is that she not to mention that he didn't care
About you or your feelings or your poor heart that's broken in two
Was it her was it him tell me who had the whim to hurt youI bet you right about now that your practically wish you were dead
With life as tough as it is sometimes it seems like show business instead
And now you have found out that that thing they call trust is cut rate
And now you hate the two of them more than you knew you could hateWell I hear that she told you she'd been shacking up with your best friend
Yes and the kick in the head is she said that she wants to again
Yeah they was kissin and huggin and doin it right in your bed
Oh this happened to you another foot has the shoe now instead

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/