

Think Twice...

Groove Armada

Close your eyes and lose the feeling that's been sinking
Close your eyes and count to three
Close your eyes rewind, I know just what you're thinking
Close your eyes and think of me Larger than life niceties
Bigger than you, more than me
I've got the Monday morning blues
And oh my god I've got the home for you And give the everyday morning you...use
There's things right here I can't afford to choose [Chorus]
Sincere, caramel, champagne, down drain, tell him, no gain
It's so damn physical it will sustain
And too damn technicolor to refrain
And much too taxing for my little brain Why do we never know enough of happy ends?
Why do they never show?
All the times that we have been so good and caring
How many times we'll never know [Chorus: x2] Packed it like a punch out to lunch
I got a little hunch that stood out from the bunch
As if that's not a enough I need another reason why That god damn bitch of life she made me cry
So I'd like to poke her squarely in the eye
And it hurt so much I feel like I could die
Yeah
