

Statues Without Eyes

Kill Hannah

Lost and winter's on the way
And the air is caving in
And the streets are crumbling
But you are with me Under the downtown city lights
We become statues without eyes
Barely audible, we're frozen in time
I have you where I want you Oh, I need to look away
When the jets are overhead
And the storm is closing in
Yeah something is happening Beneath the modern cold high rise
We become statues without eyes
Stand at attention, they all align
I have you where I want you
