No One But You

Doug Paisley

i've seen you stumble i've seen you fall
i've seen you brought down feathers and all picked your self up for the ones that you call your best friendsi know you've been fighting what we can't see sometimes it takes many faces to be it takes a time and a place to be free but in the endwho would be so cruel to someone like you
who would make the rules for the things that you do no one but youi woke up this morning looked at the sky i thought of all of the time passing by it didn't matter how hard we tried cause in the end
