Anchor

Trapt

These winds are so violent they push and they pull
It's hard not to get swept away
This world is so restless it's spinning circles
Leaving me in it's wakeReign me when I run astray
Your heavy chains, a warn embrace
Forces work to cause these rifts
Break this bond that we have builtDon't ever let them
I'll ride it out every time with youYou're my anchor when I'm drifting
Drifting away when there's no lifeline around
I've got you to hold me down against the elements
Another perfect storm
I'm not going anywhere with you as my anchor
Such turbulent waters the balance upset
Composure is lost again
I start to wander too close to the edge
Is this gap just too large to bridge?Reign me when I run astray
Your heavy chains, a warn embrace
Forces work to separate
Break this bond that we madeDon't ever let them
I'll ride it out every time with youYou're my anchor when I'm drifting
Drifting away when there's no lifeline around
I've got you to hold me down against the elements
Another perfect storm
I'm not going anywhere with you as my anchorIs this tide just too strong to shake?
Will the undertow pull me away
Is it just a matter of time til one of us gets lost?
You're my anchor when I'm drifting
Drifting away when there's no lifeline around
I've got you to hold me down against the elements
Another perfect storm
I'm not going anywhere with you as my anchor.
