Empire

Rococode

The light unsung
Ghosting the notes in my head
The weight that hums
Back to haunt me

I'm gonna love you like an empire
Build you up and brave the flames higher
Keep it burning like a prairie fire
I wouldn't have it any other way

The rise undone
Still this heart floats in my chest
The way no one
Hears my calling

I'm gonna love you like an empire
Build you up and brave the flames higher
Keep it burning like a prairie fire
With a fury that will never tire
I'm gonna love you like an empire
I wouldn't have it any other way
