

Demons (feat. The Dirtball)

Kottonmouth Kings

Im wasted, Im high
Im tryin to just get by
Im tryin to live my life
The Demons, they won't leave me aloneIm wasted, Im high Im tryin to just get by
Im tryin to live my life
The Demons, they won't leave me aloneYou can find demons on me every side, at this point I ain't goin there to hide.
They wanna jump ship, let em take a ride
it's a known truth not to lose your pride.
And if they then be gettin out of hand, smack em in the head and make em take a stand
you gotta let em kow you run your shit man these motherfuckin demons will take you for everything they can.
It's the alcohol that got me most,
she got me numbed up everyday we toast.
To all the other demons that be on the way,
can we flip a green one, purple cap, ready to play.
Now all the suspects here,
runnin strong in the blood, all clear.
And if they gonna leave Im gonna find a twin,
so that I can balance my levels and feel normal again.
These demons won't leave me alone
I hear evil voices in the telephone.
Late at night when Im hittin my bong writin a song it just all goes wrong.
I hear voices, coming through the walls illusions of demons running down my halls.
So I, get my glock, release the safety
Pop in my clip and they start to chase me.
I shoot one and they dont shoot back pop two more rounds out my windows that smashed.
Broken glass and police cars
so I stash my weed and my funny pill jars.
Start explaining, but Im talkin in circles
they tell me slow down, we're not gonna hurt you.
I know myself, I dont trust no police cuz badges, like demons, I be seein in my sleep.
I got a pretty long list of demons that be in and out my life like santa clause on Christman evenin.

When I was teethin the boogy man was a factor in high school it changed to bong hits and droppin acid.
Keystone ice and mickey's grenades scorin bags of mid-grade for 10 dollars an eighth?? 15 started smokin grit, 16 years later now Im tryin to quit.
Where in my mid 20s I never took a break
I treated every waking moment like it was a holiday.
Yeah, I straight raged with the party brigade, never did meth or H but I dabbled with the yey.
Hey yo, just know youre never alone
cuz everybodys got monsters livin in their dome, peace.
Please release and get rid of your bad thoughts
it just might take more than 12 steps, but you gotta walk.
