

Here I Am

Carly Patterson

Looking back where I'm from can't believe that I'm here
Gave my all, paid the price and I do it again
I've walked alone in my head, I've cried in my bed
But the morning lights oh so bright wake me again
It's about faith and it's about fate
It's about risking it all everyday
It's about holding when you wanna let go
It's just believing in all that you know
Here I am, now standing on the edge
Everything I know coming together
All my life I've seen it in my dreams, waiting for the day
I'm just a second away
I'm taking time, reaching down to walk through my fear
Break it down, in my head I can see it so clear
I work it out, in my heart I see it appear
The world is so beautiful from the view up here
It's about living, not just getting by
It's about reaching when there's nothing inside
It's about breathing when all it too much
It's about standing when you wanna give up
Here I am, now standing on the edge
Everything I know coming together
All my life I've seen it in my dreams, waiting for the day
I'm just a second away
Everything is disappearing
Standing up here alone
And I feel like I'm standing forever
This is where I belong
Here I am now, yeah, here I am now standing on the edge
Everything I know coming together
All my life I've seen it in my dreams, waiting for the day
I'm just a second away
Here I am now, yeah, here I am now standing on the edge
Everything I know coming together
All my life I've seen it in my dreams, waiting for the day
I'm just a second away, I'm just a second away, I'm just a second away
