Born Under A Bad Sign

Richard Hawley

What are you like? You've had a right life And taken a long ride, but oh what a cost

And all of your life, staring at white lines Reading the road signs, and oh what a loss

Sleeping late in the afternoon, playing your guitar

Born under a bad sign Born under a bad sign

Sleeping late in the afternoon, staying out till dawn

Born under a bad sign Born under a bad sign

Now your laying in the afterglow

And there's something that she wants to know

Are you going be the one to say

You belong to me, you belong to me

Born under a bad sign Born under a bad sign

Sleeping late in the afternoon, playing your guitar

Born under a bad sign Born under a bad sign You've had a right life Born under a bad sign Everybody knows Everybody knows Everybody knows Born under a bad sign Born under a bad sign

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by HAWLEY, RICHARD WILLIS Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/