

Railroad Lullaby

The Twilight Singers

Do you remember when I told you that I had a tale to tell?
Let me regale you child, about a life spent on the rail
Forget me not, don't forget it
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
And whenever the drugstore man used to come around
I'd bite my lip and then I'd take myself to town
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
Forget me not, don't forget it
Don't call me no more, no more
Nobody ever needs ya when you're this far gone
This far gone
Nobody ever needs ya when you're this far gone
Now you say the trains a'comin' but I don't see it on the track
Last trains eleven and it ain't comin' back
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
Forget me not, don't forget it
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
'Cuz I'll be gone in a minute
I'll be gone in a minute
Don't call me no more, no more
'Cuz nobody ever needs ya when you're gone
When you're gone
When you're gone
When you're [Incomprehensible] far gone
