

Memoir

Audio Adrenaline

There is music and laughter lately
And there's prayers and praise
There are reasons to be so happy
And beliefs to embrace There are times to be so angry
I'd rather lie in the sun
It's the summer of my lifetime
I've been blessed with some fun I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom
Keep my eyes on the Father
Everything is in bloom Everything will just get better
Through the seasons I'll roam
And all of the music's over
I will get to go home I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom
Keep my eyes on the Father
Everything is in bloom I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom
Keep my eyes on the Father
Everything is in bloom I don't need theology
To know that God's been good to me
He's given me a family
And a place to lay my head Flung into the great unknown
I was walking on my own
Now I'll never walk alone
If I did I would be dead I can't use it all myself
So I take it off the shelf
Here it is enjoy yourself
Put away your drudgery Use it up there's always more
That's what it's intended for
Be the Lord's ambassador
To be the planets remedy I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom
Keep my eyes on the Father
Everything is in bloom I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom
Keep my eyes on the Father
Everything is in bloom Everything, everything
Everything, everything
I'm a season past springtime

I'm a season past spring
I'm a season past springtime
And my life has gone boom

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>