Fulfilling

Slick Shoes

The life's torn from you, there is nowhere to turn
You're all alone, you feel hollow and empty
Nothing you do can suppress the heartache that you feel
The only strength you have is used to cry in miseryCould you fill the hole you've made inside your heart
When you can't erase your past mistakes?
They say that everything happens for a reason
But nothing on this earth will make the sorrow go awayYour thoughts are filled with emptiness and despair
But just have faith and God will show you grace
