Red Carpet Complex

InMemory

I insist you be the star the camera is rolling stand still so I'll capture this shot chemicals for our anxious hearts baby i'm nervous i can't wait until april falls the greatest love story ever caught on film tension grows behind curtains actors ask for water why bother-love withers away
the villians prospered
the good guys lost her the crowd remains anxious we'll leave them all with open jaws credits in the end will reveal your name behind this camera lens i will stay strange fiction
despite that i'm nervous and practically worthless is this the part where the hero dies?
I'm not one for credits, I'm finished so leave my name out
the villians prospered
Its tragic you missed it the camera was never turned on strange fiction
backstage the camera is not rolling so i find this perfect time to say you're his favorite extra and I'm just your co-star strange fiction
