Under the Wreckage

Face to Face

I guess I should have listened to the way you said goodbye
My last remaining thought of you is only just a lie
I didn't mean to let you leave but I didn't really try
To keep you here because I didn't wanna learn to whyThat my life won't mean anything
It's all gone, I lost it all
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhereSo underneath the wreckage I keep looking for a sign
A way to bring you back to me, there's nothing left to find
There's so much of this mess I made
There's so much I can't hide
I wonder if I found you, could I look you in the eye?That my life won't mean anything
It's all gone, I lost it all
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
I keep looking, I can't find you anywhere
